Moving reform forward for the benefit of you and your employees

To minimize disruption for you and your employees, we aim to implement health care reform as quickly and effectively as possible. While unresolved legal and legislative challenges have created uncertainty about the future of health care reform, these challenges will not affect our current implementation efforts. We will continue to implement reform in good faith for the benefit of our customers and members.
Looking back

How we implemented the first round of provisions

Here’s an overview of how we implemented some key provisions for group health plans in 2010. These provisions went into effect for plan years beginning on or after September 23, 2010:

Dependent coverage to age 26

For many plans, we implemented this provision early to avoid a coverage gap for spring 2010 graduates. Group plan members were given the opportunity to enroll dependents younger than 26 at their first open enrollment after September 23, 2010. We decided to cover dependents to age 26 for most vision and dental plans as well, even though the health care reform law doesn’t apply to these HIPAA-excepted benefits.

No lifetime dollar limits/restricted annual dollar limits on essential health benefits

We removed lifetime dollar limits from plans where required and gave individuals who may have previously reached their lifetime maximum an opportunity to re-enroll at the group’s regular open enrollment. We implemented the annual limits provision, removing annual benefit and plan dollar limits.

No member cost share for in-network preventive care

We expanded our standard preventive care list and updated nongrandfathered plans to cover these services with no member cost share. We also chose to include this coverage in some grandfathered plans. An updated preventive care list that includes expanded coverage for women’s services (including FDA-approved contraception methods) will take effect at the first renewal on or after August 1, 2012.

Patient protections

We decided to include these provisions in all plans, even though they aren’t required for grandfathered plans.

Revised appeals process and adverse benefit determinations

We created a standard appeal process that complies with health care reform for fully insured and self-insured groups. We have updated adverse benefit determinations (including explanation of benefit forms) to comply with this provision’s notice requirements.

No discrimination in favor of highly compensated employees

In December 2010, the government issued a notice delaying enforcement of this provision for fully insured plans until more guidance is available. It is the employer’s or group’s responsibility to ensure compliance with this provision.

Early Retiree Reinsurance Program

Five billion dollars was set aside to help employers continue to provide coverage to certain retirees. We have helped customers apply for these funds by supplying required reporting and information. Funds for this temporary program had nearly run out by late 2011 – just 18 months after the program began.

*This is not required for grandfathered group health plans. While not all health care reform changes are required in grandfathered plans, in some cases our company has decided to adopt health care reform provisions in both grandfathered and nongrandfathered plans. According to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), adoption of these additional provisions has no impact on the grandfathering status of those plans. For specific benefit plan impacts of health care reform, please refer to plan materials provided to you.

What do you need to do?

If you employ fewer than 25 employees and their average annual compensation is less than $50,000, you may qualify for the small employer tax credit. You’ll need to submit Form 8941, Credit for Small Employer Health Insurance Premiums, which is posted on the IRS website. You can get more details and calculate your potential credit at anthem.com/healthcарereform.
Where we are today

Making gradual shifts from 2011 to 2013

From 2011 to 2013, reform focuses less on benefit changes and more on industry regulation and funding reform-related programs. Some key provisions you should be aware of:

Spending account changes

Starting January 1, 2011 (regardless of plan year dates), prescriptions are required for spending account reimbursement of over-the-counter drugs other than insulin. Also on January 1, 2011, the penalty for nonqualified health savings account distributions went up to 20%. Starting in 2013, health care flexible spending account contributions will be limited to $2,500 per year. The limit will be adjusted for the cost of living every year.

Uniform summary of benefits and coverage/notice of material modification

These rules were scheduled to take effect in March 2012, but they’ve been delayed until final regulations are issued. Plan summaries must have consistent contents and formatting. For fully insured plans, the plan issuer must provide a compliant paper or electronic summary at certain times in the enrollment process. Also, the plan issuer or sponsor must provide 60-day notice for material modifications to plan benefits. The notice requirement doesn’t apply to renewals.

W-2 reporting

This requirement was originally scheduled to start earlier, but the IRS delayed it until the 2013 tax year (meaning W-2s issued in January 2014) for employers who issue fewer than 250 W-2s. Until that time, reporting is optional. The value of employer-sponsored coverage will be a new, separate entry on the W-2 form. This is a reporting obligation only and does not change the current tax-free nature of the benefit.

Medical loss ratios

Health insurance issuers will report medical loss ratio (the percentage of premiums spent on medical care and quality improvement, as opposed to administrative expenses) to HHS on a calendar-year schedule. This reporting starts with calendar year 2011. Issuers that don’t meet the minimum medical loss ratio (80% for small group) during the calendar year will need to pay rebates by August 1 of the following year. The first rebate payments, if any, must be made by August 1, 2012. For group plans, these rebates will be sent to the group. The group can then distribute the rebate to current subscribers or use it to reduce premiums.

Comparative effectiveness research plan fees

For plan/policy years ending after September 30, 2012, and before October 1, 2019, the plan issuer or sponsor will pay a fee to partially support the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute. In the first year, the annual fee will be $1 multiplied by the average number of covered lives. In the second year, it will increase to $2 multiplied by the average number of covered lives.

Notification requirements

Starting in 2013, employers will need to start telling employees about health insurance exchanges and premium subsidies.

What do you need to do?

- If you offer spending accounts, update your employee benefit materials to reflect the new rules.
- Make sure your payroll department or vendor is prepared for W-2 reporting.
- If you have fewer than 100 employees who work 25+ hours per week, look into federal grant funding for workplace wellness programs started after March 23, 2010. Watch for more details when grant funding becomes available.
Requirements for minimum coverage

To be considered minimum coverage, a plan must:

- Provide 60% actuarial value minimum. Basically, this means the plan covers at least 60% of covered health care costs.
- Be “affordable” based on regulations.

Requirements for exchange plans

To be offered in an exchange, a plan must:

- Include the essential health benefits package.
- Provide 60% actuarial value minimum.
- Comply with one of the four benefit tiers with specified actuarial values (shown below).

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All will include Essential Health Benefits

Plus catastrophic plan offerings for individuals who are younger than 30 or qualify because of financial hardship

The benefit requirements listed above for exchange plans will also apply to small group fully insured plans sold outside of the exchanges.
What preventive care services were added for nongrandfathered plans?

Most of the services required by HHS were already included in our preventive care guidelines; however, we did add several additional screening tests and certain services associated with previously covered screenings and vaccines. Also, we added counseling related to aspirin use, tobacco cessation, obesity and alcohol. An updated preventive care list that includes expanded coverage for women’s services (including FDA-approved contraception methods) will take effect at the first renewal on or after August 1, 2012.

What services are considered essential health benefits?

Late in 2011, HHS released a bulletin on its approach for essential health benefits. Instead of defining a specific package or rules, HHS will let states choose based on a benchmark plan. If a state chooses not to select a benchmark, HHS suggests that the default benchmark will be the small group plan with the largest enrollment in the state.

We do know that essential health benefits include at least these general categories:

- Ambulatory patient services
- Emergency services
- Hospitalization
- Maternity and newborn care
- Mental health and substance use disorder services, including behavioral health treatment
- Prescription drugs
- Rehabilitative and habilitative services and devices
- Laboratory services
- Preventive and wellness services
- Chronic disease management
- Pediatric services, including oral and vision care

How will health care reform affect small group health plans starting in 2014?

All fully insured small group plans (whether sold inside or outside an exchange) will need to:

- Include essential health benefits.
- Provide 60% actuarial value minimum.
- Ensure that annual cost-sharing for essential health benefits doesn’t exceed the maximum out-of-pocket limits for a high-deductible health plan.
- Comply with one of the four benefit tiers with specified actuarial values (60%, 70%, 80% or 90%).

Does the health care reform law require health plans to cover members’ costs for clinical trials?

Starting in 2014, nongrandfathered plans must include coverage of routine patient costs for clinical trials of life-threatening diseases.

Can an employer impose an eligibility waiting period before enrolling new employees?

Yes, to the extent that the federal health care reform law and state law permits. Starting in 2014, under the federal health care reform law eligibility waiting periods cannot exceed 90 days.

Does the employer mandate provision require employers to offer dependent coverage?

No, dependents do not have to be offered coverage based on the employer mandate.
